THE DIAMOND FIELDS.

We find in the San Francisco Chronicle a very amusing discription of the return of a party of diamond hunters. The expedition was composed of Gen. J. W. Bost, Surveyor; M. G. King, Engineer; M. G. Gellette, Alfred Rubery, John F. Boyd, Dr. C. D. Cleveland, E. M. Fry, Chauncy Fairfield and C. G. Meyers. The Chronicle's reporter says that Mr. Roberts gave him the following information - whether the reporter ever saw Roberts Heaven only knows, but this is what the Chronicle says:

"This party," said Roberts, "was sent out for the purpose of making an accurate survey of the location, so that the company might be able to secure a Gov-erment patent for its lands. We took with us an experienced surveyor and a civil engineer. We have accomplished that portion of our work, surveyed 3,000 acres of land, and have fully confirmed the truth and accuracy of Mr. Janin's report-more than confirmed it, in

After some further conversation with Mr. Roberts the reporter next opened his batteries upon General J. W. Bost, Surveyor of the expedition. The General is well known throughout California, having been Surveyor-General of the State under Haight's administration. He pronounced the diamond-fields to be as rich and extensive as they were first represented to be. Mr. Janin's report was fully warranted by what he (General Bost) saw for himself. Said he: "We all started in one afternoon, at 4 o'clock. to see how many diamonds we could each find in an hour. We scratched and dug with our knives among the sand and gravel, down to bed-rock, which varies in depth from six inches to ten feet. The diamonds are found close down to the bed-rock. Well, at the expiration of an hour we counted up our 'finds.' Altogether, we had 286 diamonds, varying in size from a drop of water to a white bean. Boyd alone had picked up 67. I found the largest one."

Here a little package containing about a teaspoonful of sparkling gems were opened before the astonished reporter, and General Bost, picking up one which was really as large as a bean, said joyfully:

"There, that's mine-that is, I found the elittering it myself," and he held the glittering stone between his fore-finger and thumb, and gazed upon it with all the fond affection of a mother for her first-born. Then with a tear in his eye, he replaced it in the package, which was turned over to Mr. Lept.

Gen. Bost stated to the reporter that there was not a shadow of doubt about the fabulous wealth of deposits.

Mr. Gillett, the large, dusty, savagelooking, good-natured man, was singled out as the next victim. Near him sat Dr. Cleveland and Mr. Rubery. The statements made by Mr. Roberts and those of Gen. Bost were fully confirmed by each of these gentlemen. They speak with an earnestness that carried full conviction with it, and there was no inconsistency or discrepancy which might have cast a doubt or their truthfulness. There may be some mistake yet about these diamond-fields, but if they do not prove to be the richest and most extensive deposit of gems ever heard of before the reporter who interviewed these ten men yesterday will be prepaired to listen to any argument to prove that the earth is not round, and that things are not as our senses represent them to us. JEWELED ANT BILL

Mr. Rubery, a very intelligent young Englishman, who has made two trips to the fields—the first with Mr. Janin and the last with Roberts -told the reporter a marvelous tale about an ant-hill built of jewels. He had stepped accidentally the aide of the mound, and the busy little insects came angrily forth to wreak vengance on the intruder. Stooping down to look closer at the ants, Mr. Rubery noticed a great number of red and, white stones, of uniform size. close examination showed that nearly the entire mound was composed of diamonds and rubies. He shoveled the whole anthill into a sack, and brought it along

The Roberts party will be the lions the town for the next nine days-after they get washed and shaved.

As to the location, not a syllable of information could be gained. On this point every member of the party was as mute as an Egyptian mummy.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—Yesterday, in noticing the nominations made by the Liberal and Democratic Convention, we regret that the name of Mr. D. A. Fulks was omitted. The omission was entirely unintentional, and we take pleasure in saying that the nomination of that gentleman met with the hearty approval of all, and none more than ourselves. Mr. Fulks is well known to this community as a gentleman of excellent business qualifications, which we think will be found of essential benefit to the county in the important office to which he is nominated and we believe will be elected.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.-In another place will be found a full report of the proceedings of the Republican County Convention. Among others, some very clever gentlemen were nominated, but unfortunately for them, they are on the wrong ticket, and consequently will not be troubled or bothered with the cares and duties of office.

THANKSGIVING .- The President has issued the usual proclamation for thanksgiving day and recommends that the 28th of November be devoted to that purpose.

THANKS .- Our best thanks are due to Messrs. Frank Klain and George R. Davidson, for their assistance in repairing a defect in one of our presses.

An explosion occurred in the Phenix Smelting Works, at Eureka. No one was hurt, and but little damage done.

It is thought the registered voters in Storey county will reach 5,000.

Department of State, Washington, Oct. The undersigned is charged by the President with the painful duty of announcing to the people of the United States the death of William Henry Sew-ard, distinguished for his faithful and eminent services ip varied public trusts during a long series of years. He died at Auburn, State of New York, yesterday, October 10. Charged with the administration of the Department of State at the most critical period in the history of the nation, Mr. Seward brought to the duties of the office exalted patriotism, unwearied industry and consummate ability, and a grateful nation will cherish his name, his fame and his memory. The several executive departments will cause the appropriate honors to be rendered to the memory of the deceased statesman at home and abroad.

Thanksgiving Proclamation. Washington, 11th.—By the President of the United States: A Proclamation: Whereas the revolution of another year has again brought the time when it is usual to look back upon the past, and publicly thank the Almighty for His merries and his blessings; And, Whereas, If any one people have more occasion than another for such thankfulness, it is the citizens of the United States, whose government is their own creation, subject to their behests, who have reserved to themselves ample civil and religious freedom and equality before the law, who during the last twelve months have enjoyed exemption from every grievance or general calamity, and to whom prosperity in agri ulture, manufactures and commerce have been vouchsafed; Thereby, by these considerations, I recommend that on Thursday, the 28th of November next, the people meet in their respective houses of worship, and there make acknowledgments to God for his kindness and bounty.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand, and cause the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the City of Washington, this 11th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1872, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-seventh.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

This body assembled yesterday morning at the Court House soon after 10 o'clock. The Convention was called to order by Judge R. S. Clapp, when W. W. Bishop was elected temporary Chairman and Frank Kenyon and Henry Schaffer Secretaries. The Chairman then appointed Geo. Miller, Wm. Alperson, John Collins, G. F. Williams and Louis Stern, as a Committee on Creden-

The Convention then took a recess of fifteen minutes.

On re-assembling the Committee reported in favor of 18 delegates from Pioche, five from Bullionville, one each from St. Thomas, Los Vergas, Hiko, Condor Mill, Chief District, Frieburg and Highland, and three from Panaca two from Dry Valley and one from New man's Ranch. The report was adopted Committees were then appointed on Res-olutions and Order of Business; also on Permanent Organization.

The Convention then adjourned for

At 12:15 p. m., the Convention again met, when the Committee on Permanent Organization reported in favor of W. W. Bishop as Chairman, with F. Kenyon and H. Schaffer as Secretaries, and H. C. Aubrey and D. James as Sergeants-at-Arms. Adopted. The Committee an Order of Business

The Territorial Enterprise is again repeating that worn-out falsehood respecting Mr. Greeley's speech at Pittsburg.

The Enterprise says: In his speech at Pittsburg, on the 19th of last month, Horace Greeley said: "I demand that there shall be open, free discussion before the Southern people. If, after an honest, unterrified, uncon strained vote, they prove that the people of the South say they want disunion, I will consent to it." What have Old Line Republicans and Union Democrats during the war to say to this? What they have to say, will only be a repetition of what all others will say that

never used those words at Pittsburg, and the Enterprise is well aware that he did not. This calumny originated at Dayton, Ohio, where, on the 20th of last month, a Radical journalistic knave circulated those words as a report of Mr. Greeley's speech. At Cincinnati Mr. Greeley saw the paper, denounced the report as a falsehood, and stated what he really did say. This occurred on the 20th September, the day after he spoke at Pittsburg. and the same day that the Radical rascal invented and published his scandalous forgery at Dayton. The Sacramento Union, the Alta California, and other Pacific coast Radical organs, have eagerly circulated the charge, while they as well as the Enterprise, were well aware of its utter falsity; for in their own columns devoted to telegraphic intelligence, they publish the refutation. So, Mr. Enterprise, all honest people will think that the paper which publishes as the truth a charge that it knows to be false, is no better than the originator of the lie.

CONGRESSIONAL COMBATANTS. -- Judge C. C. Goodwin, Republican nominee for Congress, leaves this evening for Genoa, to meet Congressman C. W. Kendall, and the two will discuss the political issues of the day at that place to-morrow (Wednesday) evening. On Thursday evening they will speak at Reno .- Virg. Chronicle, 8th.
